Consultation has not been meaningful or adequate at key stages, limiting the opportunity for effective public participation.

The sustainability appraisal does not properly assess reasonable alternatives, nor does it demonstrate that the chosen strategy represents the most sustainable option.

The Plan does not adequately address identified development needs, particularly in relation to housing and supporting infrastructure. It does not demonstrate that it meets objectively assessed needs in a sustainable manner.

Elements of the Plan are not aligned with national planning policy requirements relating to sustainable development, infrastructure provision, and deliverability.

There is insufficient evidence of ongoing, constructive, and active engagement with neighbouring authorities and relevant bodies.

Statements of common ground, where provided, lack clarity or fail to demonstrate agreement on key strategic matters.
